

CONSERVATION PLANNING

Our architectural heritage: a guide to planning legislation and managing change

Conservation Planning was revised, expanded, illustrated and road-tested during Planning Aid for London's 2000
-2003 "Access to Conservation" project, part funded by

ENGLISH HERITAGE

PLANNING AID FOR LONDON'S PUBLICATIONS ARE GENERALLY WRITTEN FOR A NATIONAL AUDIENCE

Keep the best of our past in planning the future... whether someone is hoping to carry out work on their own property, or is responding to proposals by others, there is a need to understand the way buildings and places of special interest are protected against ill-informed and heedless change.

This popular handbook explains the rules and principles to help individuals, and guides community involvement in making change locally appropriate.
