Nottingham, 4 – 6 July 2019 Heritage, Risk & Resilience - confronting conservation calamities

The East Midlands Branch is pleased to announce that once again it is able to offer a Bursary for the IHBC Annual School, which this year will take place in Nottingham between Thursday 4 July and Saturday 6 July.

The Annual School will cover all manner of possible risks to heritage and look at how those risks can be managed and resilience developed. The risks covered will include Fire, Flood, Structural Failure, Terrorism as well as the more traditional Heritage at Risk issues.

1. Eligibility Requirements

The Bursary is open to all IHBC East Midlands Branch affiliate, associate and full members.

2. Bursary Information

As the Annual School is in our own region this year, the Branch is providing three Bursary Awards to cover the costs of three Day School places on Friday 5 July. The Day School places will include the Annual Dinner on Friday evening but successful candidates will be expected to pay their own travel expenses and any accommodation costs.

If you are interested in applying for the Bursary, you should submit your application in writing to the Branch's Chair, Liz Mayle, preferably by email to lizmayle@googlemail.com by Friday 26 April 2019.

3. Selection Criteria

Your application should set out, in no more than 500 words, your case for receiving the award and what you may be able to contribute in return that would benefit the activities and/or promotion of the IHBC either at Branch or national level.

The Branch Committee will be responsible for selecting the recipient of the Bursary, based on the merits of the case and according to need. Whilst the Bursary is open to all IHBC East Midlands Branch members, in selecting the successful candidate the Branch Committee will give preference to applicants who are:

- a) Either unwaged and/or full time student on a conservation course, or
- b) New entrants to the profession (under 5 year's full time employment) and whose employer is unable/unwilling to fund a place on the school.
