

Heritage in Law

The subtleties, nuances and complexity of the law in relation to the historic environment is a subject highly relevant to all practitioners dealing with decision-making relating to our heritage. This conference is a timely update on this fast-moving legal framework which underpins our day to day work.

9th June 2017
9:30am - 16:15pm
Armada House, Bristol

Lunch provided

www.armadahouse.co.uk

Cost: IHBC members: £100.00 Non-members: £115.00

Key Note Speaker: Dr Charles Mynors

Dr Mynors has written extensively on the law in relation to the historic environment. His most recent book, Changing Churches: a practical guide to the faculty system, was published by Bloomsbury in June 2016. His next book will be a new (fifth) edition of Listed Buildings and Other Heritage Assets, due to be published by Sweet & Maxwell during 2017.

heritageinlaw.ihbc.org.uk

Programme and details subject to change

9.45 – 10.00	Introduction and welcome by Maureen Pearce Chair (IHBC South West Region)
10.00 - 10.30	Introduction to the legal system – Dr Charles Mynors, barrister, law commission
10.30 - 11.00	Assessing harm to significance – Simon Hickman, Principal Inspector of Historic England South west Branch
11.00 - 11.15	Questions
11.15 - 11.30	Break
11.30 - 12.00	The duty to have special regard – Tom Deards, head of legal dept Canal and River Trust
12.00 - 12.15	Questions
12.15 - 1.00	Preparing and presenting evidence at Inquiries - Harriet Townsend, Cornerstone Barristers
1.00 - 1.45	Lunch and IHBC AGM
1.45 - 2.30	Concepts of harm and loss in relation to the NPPF - Emma Dring, Cornerstone Barristers
2.00 - 2.45	Break
2.45 - 3.30	Curtilage Buildings - Dr Charles Mynors
3.30 – 4.00	Questions
4.15	Chair and close